

Appendix G References

REFERENCES

Anderson H.D. Aid to determining fuel models for estimating fire behavior. General Technical Report INT-22, NOCG publication

Effects of Fuel Treatments on Wildfire Severity, Final Report, Interagency Joint Fire Sciences Program, Western Forest Fire Research Center, Colorado State University, Phillip N. Omi, Erik J. Martinson.

FEMA region 10, 201.6 Local Mitigation Plans, Local Hazard Mitigation Plan Determination.

Gray, Gerry, May 29, 2001. "A Community-Based Approach to Addressing Wildfire".

Idaho Department of Lands document: Hazardous Fuels Reduction Program.

Idaho Department of Lands document: Multi-Resource Stewardship Program.

Interagency Fire Education Initiative, resource Management Education Unit, 2001 <http://fire.nifc.nps.gov/fire/ecology/docs/ecplinit.html>.

Jack D. Cohen, U.S. Forest Service, Fire Laboratory research paper: Wildland-Urban Fire-A Different Approach.

National Academy of Public Administration, September 2002: Wildfire Suppression: Strategies For Containing Costs, December 2003: Utilizing Local Firefighting Forces.

National Wildfire Coordinating Group, October 1999. Establishing Fire Prevention Education Cooperative Programs and Partnerships.

Presidential Directive/HSPD-5: Management of Domestic Incidents

State of Idaho Strategy for Implementation of the National Fire Plan

Teton County Comprehensive Plan

Teton County Subdivision Regulations

Teton County Building Regulations

Teton County Rural Address System